Osseo Area Schools Early Childhood and Family Education (EC&FE)

Building a foundation for lifelong learning

We provide high quality, developmentally appropriate classes and early learning opportunities for young children birth to five and their families. Our Early Childhood and Family Education staff are committed to providing safe and nurturing environments that promote the physical, social, emotional, aesthetic, intellectual and language development of each child—while being sensitive to the unique needs and preferences of families. Some of our ECFE staff include:

Parent Educators

Our licensed parent educators offer support by facilitating a parent group or individual consultation by providing relevant, reliable, research-based parent education curriculum and parenting practices that build conversation and knowledge about parenting to guide and strengthen families. Through relationship building, parent educators work to support and encourage the well-being, learning, growth and development of families.

Children's Teachers

Our licensed children's teachers provide learning activities using play-based curriculum for families during parent-child time and children's play time. Activities are designed to foster children's social, emotional, cognitive, physical, language and literacy development through songs, stories, art, dramatic play, sensory, movement, games and more!

Educational Support Professionals (ESPs)

Our educational support professionals (ESPs) are part of the classroom teaching team to provide support and help to encourage positive learning experiences with children and families in our program.

What is ECFE?

Early Childhood Family Education (ECFE) is based on the idea that parents provide their child's first and most significant learning environment and parents are children's first and most enduring teachers. ECFE works to support you as a parent/caregiver and to strengthen and empower families. The goal is to enhance the ability of all parents and other family members to provide the best possible environments for their child's learning and development.

Who goes to ECFE?

- Parents and other caring adults who have a significant relationship in a child's life.
- Parents who are looking for friends for their child, parents who are looking for friends for themselves.
- Parents who want to learn skills and strategies to help strengthen their family's overall well-being.

Types of ECFE classes

After attending class each week, families will leave with new ideas, resources and activities to practice what they have learned to support and encourage the growth and development of families.

Mon-Separating class

Parents and children will engage in classroom activities led by a teacher for the entire class. During parent education discussion time, children and parents will remain in the same classroom. Children will play nearby with other children and the children's teacher. Children are able to visually see and connect with their adult as needed.

Gradual Separating class

When the class begins, the start and length of parent and child separation time is determined by the needs of the group. In a gradual separating class, parents and children remain together for part of the class in the same classroom. When it is time to separate, parents will move to a different room for parent education time with a parent educator while children participate in classroom activities with a children's teacher.

Separating class

Parents and children will engage in classroom activities led by a teacher for part of the class and then separate into a parent only group and children's group, each led by teachers. When separation occurs, parents will join together for parent education discussion time with a parent educator in another classroom. During parent education discussion time, children will remain in their original classroom and participate in classroom activities with a children's teacher.

Parent and Child Play Time

Parents and children will engage in classroom activities led by a teacher for the entire play time. Group sizes will be up to twelve children with their adult in a classroom or Nature Play Area including up to two staff. Play time does not include parent education discussion time.

Online class

Online ECFE classes give parents and children a chance to meet other families from the community and engage in early learning activities together led by a children's teacher or parent educator.

Most classes include

PARENT- CHILD TIME

Activities where parents and children learn and enjoy time together and in a group and develop friendships with others from the community.

PLAY TIME

Time for children to learn and interact with one another and a children's teacher to develop their physical, language, literacy, social and emotional skills.

PARENT TIME

Parent education time with other parents and a parent educator to learn about positive guidance, child development and opportunities to reflect on short and longterm goals, values, and parenting practices in a supportive group setting.

Classes are offered in partnership with HUG (Helping Us Grow) and focus on introducing early literacy skills. Each family will leave with a copy of the book Brain Games for Babies and a set of board books for your home library. Sandwiches, fruit and water provided.

Participants will learn:

- Connection with other parents in the community that are also expecting or have a new baby.
- Sample activities to do at home with your baby based on the book Brain Games for Babies.
